Sometimes I Just Want Ice Cream

An original play by Randy Barrett Topper, takes a look at grief and loss through the eyes of young people. Based on discussions with alumni of Camp Good Grief of Staten Island, the scenes explore the different ways people experience loss, and the range of conflicting emotions people feel when confronted with loss. Using a combination of heartfelt moments, humor and song, we explore what it means to be alive and coping with the death of a loved one through 8 insightful scenes and 4 songs. Music and lyrics are by Broadway composer and music director David Friedman.

Appropriate for grades 5 and up.

Touring to your school or organization on Staten Island

“Sometimes I’m angry.
Sometimes I am confused.
Sometimes I want to scream.
Sometimes, I just want ice cream!”
